SATURDAY, MAY 4, 1872

The State Convention of the Tennessee

Democracy will assemble at Nashville,

May 9th, to nominate a candidate for Governor.

The Church and Amusements.

The New York Methodist Conference, which adjourned the other day, took a bold step in advance of any past action in that Church on the subject of popular amusements, when it recognized the right of Christians to decide for themselves the propriety or impropriety of any given course of conduct. The resolutions adopted by that body fully sustain the right of conscience in regard to the propriety of attending places of amusement.

They further urge the members to exercise caution toward those who honestly entertain liberal and religious subjects.

The resolutions entire we append:

"Inasmuch as in popular amusements there are many subtle temptations, it becomes us, as Christian pastors having the care of souls, frequently to speak on the subject to our people words of caution and advice. We by no means condemn amusements in themselves, but we believe that those who have their place and value have their place and value. We would, however, earnestly dissuade them from those amusements which tend to late hours, overworked excitement, and which appeal chiefly to the lower propensities.

In all questions of amusements we are to be guided by the Word of God, and to indulge in none which they cannot conscientiously approve. Equally, however, we urge them, that, charity which never falleth, loveth those whose Christian character is above reproach who differ in judgment from them concerning the propriety of any amusement. As we are requested to respect the consciences of others we advise each person to forgo those pleasures which he may deem right for himself, but which are condemned by the popular judgment as inconsistent with the Christian name or which are disapproved by the general sentiment of the Church. We cannot believe that by inculcating usefulness in our amusements, by a general regard for the sentiments of others, and by considerate treatment of those who err, we may effectually destroy the tendency of them to inculcate usefulness in our amusements, by inculcating usefulness in our amusements, by a general regard for the sentiments of others, and by considerate treatment of those who err, we may effectually destroy the tendency of them to inculcate usefulness in our amusements, by inculcating usefulness the sentiments of others, and by considerate

Pardon the Wrong Man.

Not long before the Legislature adjourned a prominent citizen of Louisville was sitting in the room of one of our Senators, when a man came in and inquired for the Senator. Learning that he was absent, he proceeded to test time by looking at the clock. He had come on, requesting him to make it known to the Senator when he came in. His object was to secure the pardon of a man confined in the penitentiary for larceny.

He told a touching story, and the Dead Man Found Floating in the River—Brought to Shore by a Fisherman—Inquest—A Large Sum of Money found on the Body.

On Wednesday morning last, the county Judge was informed by Peter Nelson that he had brought and tied to the shore the dead body of a man found floating in the river. The Judge summoned a jury and proceeded to hold an inquest. On examination of the body, there was tied around the neck quite a large package, which, upon its being opened was found to contain a sum of money amounting to near two thousand dollars in greenbacks. Also, a note of hand, inclosed in the same package with the money, which was as follows:

"CINCINNATI, April 19th, 1855.
"Twelve months after date, I promise to pay Henry Droppel the sum of one hundred and sixty-nine dollars, for value received, with interest from date. This note being given in the place of one for the same amount said to be stolen or lost."
"JOHN FOHLMAN."

On the back of this note are five creeds, the last being dated the 1st day of January, 1871, for the accruing interest, and signed, John Droppel.

The package of money was enclosed in an old memorandum book with a piece of paper pasted in a double sack which was tied around the neck of the dead man.

There are various accounts and other writings in the memorandum book, but nothing which gives any certain clue to the name or residence of the deceased.

The body doubtless had been in the water some time, yet it was very perceptible that the man was young, not more than 30 years of age. Black hair—more no whiskers, about 5 feet 8 inches high, and rather stout built, though the body being considerably swollen, may have misled as to size and weight. Had on no clothing, but shirt and pantaloons.

There was taken from the pockets of the pantaloons a pocket book, containing $1.90 in paper, and 35 cents in silver and four or five copper coins—also a three dollar bill, State Bank of Indiana—two common keys, resembling padlock keys, and a "citizens R. R. ticket."

There were no perceptible marks of violence on the body—and the jury rendered a verdict of accidental drowning. The body was placed in a metallic coffin, and buried in the cemetery near this place.

It is thought by many that the deceased was one of the unfortunate passengers on the Oceanic, which blew up some time ago between Cairo and St. Louis. This supposition or belief is supported by the fact, that on Tuesday last, as we learn, the body of the clerk of that ill-fated boat was taken from the river at Columbus.

As we have said, there is a considerable sum of money in the hands of one of our county officials belonging to some body, and we would think our river exchanges to give this article or the substance of it a place in their respective papers, by doing so, it is possible, some one will read it who may be able to identify the drowned man, and bring some relief perhaps to a distressed wife and family.

Any communication addressed to Jno. W. Wingate, County Judge, at this place will be promptly replied to.

New Spring and Summer Goods.—The New York store have received their new spring and summer stock of goods, and challenge an examination by the trading public. They have received a nice line of hats, boots, shoes, gaiters, etcetera.

They call especial attention to their assortment of ribbons, such as trimmings for hats, bonnets, and sash ribbon in all colors.

The expenses of the house being very small they can afford to sell with a very small profit, and will prove their ability in this line to those who favor them with a call.

Thanking the public for past favors, they solicit a continuance, and promise to strive the more earnestly to deserve the same in the future.

P. S. They have received a full line of their side lace garters made expressly for the Hickman trade.
